Officiating Policy

Policy Statement

Athletics Canada is committed to ensuring that all sanctioned competitions are officiated by trained, certified, and experienced officials who apply the rules of athletics consistently, fairly, and without bias. These officials uphold the integrity of the sport by creating safe, inclusive, and equitable competitive environments for all participants, in alignment with World Athletics, Athletics Canada and Provincial/Territorial rules and standards.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to formalize Athletics Canada's commitment to the recruitment, education, certification, and ongoing development of officials across all levels—from local to international. This policy supports the implementation of Athletics Canada's Strategic Plan by recognizing the essential role that officials play in delivering high-quality competitions. It ensures that athletes across all disciplines and stages of development are provided with fair, supportive, and well-managed competitive experiences at all Athletics Canada and Provincial/Territorial sanctioned events.

Definitions section (including acronyms)

- AC: Athletics Canada, national governing body for athletics in Canada.
- Branches: Provincial/Territorial Sport Organizations (e.g. Athletics Ontario, BC Athletics)
- WA: World Athletics, the International governing body for the sport of Athletics (track and field)
- WPA: World Para Athletics, the International governing body for para-athletics.
- NTO: National Technical Official
- ITO: International Technical Official
- Local/Regional Meet: smaller, often developmental competitions where results are not recognized by Athletics Canada for national rankings.
- Provincial Meet / Championships: larger, often more competitive competitions where results are recognized by Athletics Canada and World Athletics.

Application

Athletics Canada recognizes the integral role of the Provincial/Territorial Branches (the “Branches”) in the recruitment, retention, preparation, and advancement of certified officials in Canada. Athletics Canada also recognizes and deeply values the tireless contributions of officials who dedicate countless hours to officiating and competition management in support of athletes across all disciplines and at all stages of development.

To ensure the highest standard of officiating and to provide a consistent and quality competitive experience for athletes, Athletics Canada develops and maintains the Athletics Canada Officials Pathway. This framework is based on the rules and regulations of World Athletics (WA), World Para Athletics (WPA), and Athletics Canada (AC). Through this Pathway, Athletics Canada presents a clear and structured Officials Development strategy.

Athletics Canada is responsible for the development and ongoing maintenance of the content within the Athletics Canada Officials Pathway, including all four levels and Referee pathways. This ensures that the training, evaluation, and advancement of officials across the country align with national standards and international best practices, and remain current with updates from World Athletics, World Para Athletics, and Athletics Canada’s own rules and policies.

The Branches are responsible for delivering the Local, Regional, and Provincial Levels of the Athletics Canada Officials Pathway. These levels support the foundation and intermediate development of officials, advancing them from the local to the national level.

Athletics Canada manages and oversees delivery of the National Level of the Pathway and the Referee pathway in partnership with the Branches. These levels focus on the advanced development of senior national level officials and support their progression to international level certification through a structured strategy which includes mentorship and evaluation.

To facilitate the recognition, tracking and advancement of officials, Athletics Canada will maintain a National Registry of accredited and certified officials across all positions, disciplines, and levels of development.

Athletics Canada is committed to ensuring officials are treated with respect and professionalism by athletes, coaches, spectators, and other officials. All officiating activities are governed by the Athletics Canada National Safe Sport Program and the Athletics in Canada Code of Conduct. These policies exist to protect and support officials while fostering a fair and positive environment for all participants in the sport.
